By signing below the student and the supervisor(s) are confirming that a conflict of interest does not exist between them and all examiners listed above. Examples of conflict of interest could include the following: co-authorship on manuscripts that form part of the thesis, in the case of the supervisor, co-authorship with the external examiner within the last five years; a personal or family relationship; offer of employment such as a postdoctoral position; vested interest in the thesis/research for personal/financial gain. Potential conflicts must be reported to the Dean of the School of Graduate Studies and Postdoctoral Affairs for a decision on whether or not the person with whom the potential conflict exists can serve on the examining committee.
