

Mathematics and Engineering at Queen's University

In response to the need in industrial research and development for engineers with a greater knowledge of applied mathematics and modelling techniques, Queen's University offers a unique program in Mathematics and Engineering. This program, the only one of its kind in North America, is fully accredited by the Canadian Council of Professional Engineers. Students develop advanced skills in practical and theoretical engineering, based on solid foundations in pure and applied mathematics.