engineering and innovation will blend academic, recreational and other student life activities, and will emphasize to our students the important relationships that connect mental health, physical wellbeing and academic success.

Government Funding in Recognition of Smith Donation

On October 1, 2015, the Government of Ontario announced an extraordinary $50-million gift to the business school and a new name in recognition of the donation – the Stephen J.R. Smith School of Business at York University. This is both a historic and a significant gift ever to a Canadian business school. It will help the school realize its vision to be among the most innovative and influential business
